The time period for reply, if any, is set in the attached communication.

Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/766,861	Applicant(s) LEVY, MARK M.
	Examiner Ann Y. Lam	Art Unit 1641

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 13 March 2007.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5, 8, 10, 12, 39, 43-46, 48, 49, 51-57 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Stoltz, WO 02/102243 A1.

As to claims 1-5, Stoltz discloses a sampling device for obtaining samples of internal body substances in the digestive system wherein the device is a swallowable capsule which allows a sample of the body substance to enter the capsule through an inlet opening. The capsule comprises an inner chamber disposed to preserve a substantial negative pressure when the inlet opening is sealed, and admits flow of body substance into an inner chamber as long as there is a pressure different between the inner chamber and the external environment of the capsule (see abstract.) (The material entering the capsule is considered to be the constituent-of-interest. The material forming the capsule is considered to be the sink material (Applicants do not specify in claims 3-5 the sink material such that it is distinguished over Stoltz.)

Art Unit: 1641

As to claim 8, the solid phase is considered to be a vacuum pump (page 8, line 29) since Applicant does not specify the structural elements of the solid phase.

As to claim 10, the sink material (capsule 2) is water non-soluble.

As to claim 12, Stoltz discloses that the capsule is made of a thermoplastic material (page 5, lines 6-7.) The capsule material is deemed to be the sink material, and it is a polymer.

As to claims 39, 43, 44, the device includes a vacuum pump (page 8, line 29.) The pump is inherently capable of mixing materials within the capsule and the constituent-of-interest since it provides for contact between the two materials and moves the two materials.

As to claim 45, the capsule is considered to be a housing since has the structure of a housing, i.e., its structure can house or substantially enclose material within its structure.

As to claim 46, 48 and 49, the housing is designed and constructed so as to prevent damage to the sink mechanism by constituents and gastrointestinal tract and it prevents damage to the gastrointestinal tract by the sink mechanism (page 3, lines 1-16.)

As to claim 51, the housing can expand and/or contract since it is made of thermoplastic material (page 5, lines 6-7.)

As to claims 52-55, the device is capable of being detected by magnetic resonance imaging or ultrasound imaging.

Art Unit: 1641

As to claim 56, there is a protective cover made of a biodegradable material, to degrade only when arriving to a predetermined location of said gastrointestinal tract (see page 10, lines 3-5, disclosing that the capsule is made of gelatin which is dissolved in the digestive system.)

As to claim 57, the device is capable of flowing into it the materials recited by Applicants.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6, 7, 9, 11, 13, 14, 17-19, 28-32, 40-42, 47 and 50 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ann Y. Lam whose telephone number is 571-272-0822. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Fri. 10-6:30.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Long Le can be reached on 571-272-0823. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
